

North Shore Congregation Israel's
Brotherhood and Youth Committee Present:

College Night

Part of the "Every Family Faces It" Series

Navigating the Transition from High School to College:
A Conversation for 11th and 12th Grade Students and their Parents

Tuesday, February 2 from 7:00 pm to 8:30 pm

Transitioning from high school to college can bring up many important questions -- from deciding where to apply to how a student will shape his or her identity on campus. How does Judaism fit in to these questions, and where does it fit in to the transitional process for college-bound students and their families?

College Night is an interactive program for 11th and 12th grade students and their parents, and will include a keynote presentation and smaller group discussions, facilitated by a broad-range of experts:

Mimi Kravitz Dewoskin:

Clinical Social Worker, Author, Teacher, Adolescent and Parenting Coach

Rabbi Josh Feigleson:

Northwestern University Hillel Director

Rabbi Wendi Geffen

NSCI's very own

Nina Gelfand Harris:

Clinical Social Worker, specializing in working with adolescents

Neil Rigler

NSCI's Youth Group Director and Deerfield High School Teacher

College Night will provide students and parents a better understanding of the questions and issues they are likely to face as they look forward to college, and a basis for continuing these important college conversations at home. Our intent is to help build a foundation for a successful transition to college from a Jewish identity perspective, and to help assure a positive college experience.
